Declaration on RoHS 2 (Directive 2011/65/EU)

Status: july 2015 Ladies and Gentlemen,

Thank you for your request on RoHS 2 Compliance according to directive 2011/65/EU.

In this respect we are pleased to declare as follows:

1. We observe the effective statutory substance restrictions according to Directive 2011/65/EU of 8 June 2011 in a permanent manner. To this end we have introduced a quality assurance system (QA-System) in order to support you as manufacturer in the compliance with the exigencies stipulated by Elektrostoff-Verordnung (Regulation on the Use of Substances in Electrical and Electronical Equipment) of 9 may 2013. This regulation transposes directive 2011/65/EU in German law.
2. Due to this QA-System we assume based on our current level of knowledge that the parts supplied by us do not exceed the maximum concentration values for lead, cadmium, hexavalent chromium, PBB, PBDE and mercury. In case we in spite of this QA-System against our expectations learn of a transgression of these maximum concentration values, we will inform you immediately.
3. Paragraph one and two also hold true for statutory provisions of other EU Member States corresponding to the above mentioned German Regulation implementing Directive 2011/65/EU in the respective country.

Please don't hesitate to contact us for further details

Kind Regards,

ppa Wieger W. Westra
